

Air flow is required for electronics cooling

These areas need to be made light tight

- Light tightness can be achieved via silicon caulking, tedlar, and electrical tape
- Sleeve that fits over the hub and electronics and is “attached” to the top of ST1?
- How to allow for air flow and light tightness at the upstream end?